Personal letter

After 10 years in the industry I decided it was time to try my wings and freelance. I love the variety of projects and all the new people I get to meet! I'm used to take a project from start to finish, through modelling, animation, shading, texturing, lighting and rendering on my own. Both big and small. I often hear that I am fast and efficient and I think that's where my interest for product management is coming from.

I would love to work with people that are as creative and driven as myself and I don't think any project is too big or small.

I hope to hear from you, Camilla Hill
